

National HS Awareness Week

After last years successful awareness week, we're doing it again!

The Hidradenitis Suppurativa Trust is the leading charity exclusively dedicated to supporting those who suffer with hidradenitis suppurativa.

We actively work to increase public knowledge and to educate the medical profession on the symptoms, treatments and severities of HS. All profits made by us go towards achieving our goals, which we hope will eventually include the development of a cure.

There is currently no cure, or specific effective treatment for HS, so unfortunately it is currently life-long. The majority of sufferers will require constant management in order to keep the condition under control.

HS Awareness Week 2015 runs from 8th - 14th June 2015, and will provide an opportunity for everyone in the UK to promote understanding and awareness of hidradenitis suppurativa, by organising your very own HS fundraising event.

This year we will be campaigning around the theme 'out in the open'. We intend to bring HS out in the open, and help the public to understand how HS affects patients, and the difficulties faced by the healthcare professionals when it comes to treating this chronic condition. #OutInTheOpen

For some people, volunteer fundraising is a way of giving something back to an organisation that has helped them or someone they know, for others it may present a chance of gaining new skills and experience.
